

3RD Annual Manhattan Wetlands Wildlife / Riverkeeper Sweep Day
Environmental Rescue at the North Cove Wetlands (W. 207th St. & 9th Ave.)

Saturday, May 9, 2015

What was an illegal dump on our Harlem River is now in its 7th year as thriving wildlife refuge and public gathering space.

Help continue this tradition of community cleanup and environmental stewardship.

Please join MWW's US EPA award winner "James "Birdman" Cataldi, Friends of Sherman Creek's Obed Fulcar, Riverkeeper and our co-sponsors NYS Senator Adriano Espaillat NYC Councilman Ydanis Rodriguez.

Special thanks to MTA, New York Restoration Project and the Wildbird Fund

Youth learning about environmental rescue at North Cove
(Photo by Kerrie Sansky ©2014)

Youth education activities include boat-building, environmental justice & citizen-science.

Learn more about what's living in Harlem River?

Work on oyster reef starting w measuring oysters growing in cages.

Meet your neighbors and help build community.

Enjoy food & music.

Raffle, giveaways, light lunch while supplies last.

Make a big difference to Inwood's environment & wildlife!

Early Morning* (9am-10:45am): Estuary & Beach Clean
Late Morning* (11am-12:45pm): Planting & Removal of Invasives
Afternoon/evening (4pm-11pm): BBQ & Live Music

*Sturdy shoes or work-boots and long sleeves recommended.

Limited business sponsorship & school participation opportunities available.

For more information or to donate to this event, email James@NYCWetlands.org or call 347-360-1227.